Gen. Van Fleet Breaks With McCarthy on Ike

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP) — Gen. Van Fleet has broken with Sen. Joseph McCarthy over the Wisconsin senator's statement against President Eisenhower.

Van Fleet, who was a member of the committee which went after 10 million signatures of persons backing McCarthy in his fight against Eisenhower before the U.S. Senate, sent McCarthy a telegram yesterday renouncing his support.

The telegram said:

"I am shocked by your bitter attack against the President of the United States, a full copy of which I have read today on arrival home. In the past, I have supported you in your fight against international Communism but never have agreed with your methods. This last attack on our great President causes me to withdraw all support."

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, said he considered McCarthy's talks during the Senate hearing "insulting and blistering."

He said in an interview that McCarthy had done some good.

"I'm against Communism. He's against Communism. So that basis alone gave him my support. But I cannot stand for his attack on the President."

Van Fleet was listed as committee member in the "10,000,000 Americans Mobilized for Justice." General chairman of the drive was Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of Winter Park, Fla., retired Far East Air Force commander. Director of the drive was retired Adm. John G. Crommelin.

U.N. Demands Fliers' Release By 47-5 Vote

Russia and Four Red Bloc States Only Opposition

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld was reliably reported today to have made a bid to Red China for direct talks on the 11 American fliers held as spies.

A diplomatic source said the secretary general had sent a communication to Peiping asking whether the Chinese Communists would be willing to discuss the case. He was understood to have indicated he would make himself available for such talks if Peiping would talk.

This, it was understood, included the possibility of a trip to Peiping, if necessary.

U. N. officials declined comment. Hammarskjöld had told associates, however, that he regarded the case of the fliers as the greatest challenge that the office of secretary general had ever faced. This led to the belief that he would not treat Friday's assembly directive as a routine matter.

Continuing Efforts Urged

The Assembly resolution called upon Hammarskjöld to make "continuing and unremitting efforts" to get the fliers released.

Because of the condemnation, also included in the Assembly resolution, there was some belief here that the Chinese Reds might refuse to discuss the case with the secretary general.

The Chinese already had rebuffed efforts of India to get the fliers released.

Hammarskjöld quickly accepted the mission after the Assembly yesterday approved, 47-5, a resolution introduced by the United States and its 15 Korean Allies condemning, Peiping for jailing the fliers and demanding their release.

The vote was taken after two days of bitter East-West debate. The only opposing ballots were cast by the five-nation Soviet bloc which fought the item every step of the way. Yugoslavia and six Arab-Asian states abstained, apparently because of the clause condemning Peiping.

Vote Changed

The Assembly poll originally stood at 45-5, but delegates for Costa Rica and El Salvador who got caught in a cross-town traffic jam and missed the ballot later persuaded Assembly President Elio N. van Kleffens to record them as supporting the resolution.

Hammarskjöld is known to consider the task entrusted to him as one of the greatest challenges to face a secretary general since the U. N. began work eight years ago. He told the assembly "I will do all in my power to serve the interests of the organization."

A spokesman said later Hammarskjöld was "taking immediate steps" to carry out the mandate.

"For the present," the spokesman said, "he believes it would not serve the purposes of the resolution to make any public pronouncements as to what these steps are. He hopes to be shortly in a position to say something further for publication."

The Concrete Wing-Wall Abutment of a bridge over Tamarack Creek, seven miles south of Arcadia, Wis., was imbedded in the front of the Herman Slaby car after an accident about 7 o'clock this morning. He was killed instantly. Standing on the bridge, completing an investigation of the mishap, are Deputy Coroner

Herman Slaby Car Smashes Into Bridge

No Ice on Road, Authorities Say; Funeral on Tuesday

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Herman Slaby, 42-year-old father of four, was killed instantly about 7:05 a.m. today when his 1950 model car struck a concrete wing-wall bridge abutment on Highway 93 seven miles south of here.

Slaby was en route to work at the Badger Foundry Co., Winona, when the right wheels of his car went off the blacktop surfacing and traveled along the road for 108 feet before the car struck the abutment on the west side of the road.

Slaby was riding alone and there were no witnesses to the accident. The motor and radiator of the vehicle were pushed back about a foot and a half. The point of impact was in the exact center of the car, and neither headlight was broken. The car was described as a total wreck.

Motorist Finds Car

Slaby's injuries included a crushed chest, head injuries and a possible neck fracture.

The wreckage of his car was discovered about 7:10 a.m. by another motorist, Donald Gunderson, Independence. He notified Trempealeau County Traffic Officer Maurice Scow, Arcadia. Also investigating were Sheriff Ernest Axness and Deputy Coroner Allyn Hanson, Independence.

The accident occurred on the west side of the highway on a straight stretch about 15 to 20 rods south of Ed's Store at Tamarack and front of the Albert Kolstad farm. There was no ice on the highway and visibility was good, authorities said.

Found in the car were four Christmas packages, apparently intended for his four children.

Officials at the Badger Foundry Co. said they were surprised when Slaby did not appear for work with the 7 a.m. shift this morning, describing him as a good, dependable worker. He had been employed at the foundry about four or five months.

Funeral Tuesday

Funeral services for Slaby will be held Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, the Rev. Joseph J. Andrejewski officiating. The Wiemer-Killian Funeral Home is completing additional arrangements.

Slaby was born at Arcadia Oct. 12, 1912, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Slaby. He married the former Miss Lucy Kampa, Arcadia, Sept. 30, 1940.

Surviving are: His wife, parents and four children, Alvin, 12, Donald, 9, Mary Jane, 6 and Margie, 2 1/2; a brother, Vincent, Arcadia, and two sisters, Mrs. William (Aurvelia) Sobota and Miss Esther Slaby, both of Arcadia.

Change in Highway Tax Split Proposed

More Need Goodfellows Assistance

GOODFELLOWS were asked today to help 19 more children who need warm winter clothing.

Fifteen represent only 3 families. The family paychecks do not go far in large families, and it's up to the Goodfellows to fill the gap. Of the 19, six are in one family, five in another and 4 in another. Since the names of these children were received from a local school, it's possible that there are more tots at home of pre-school age.

Besides the request for aid for these needy children, a letter was received asking aid for a family of six in which there are four children of pre-school age. When Goodfellows workers visited the home, the mother said they had not been able to buy two of the older boys coats for four years. These boys are in the growing stage and need coats badly. The little girls also need warm clothing.

Goodfellows will take care of the school-age children through the schools before the Christmas vacations begin. Pre-school children will be fitted during the vacations. Thus far, 240 children have been clothed, leaving well over 500 still in need of help.

Goodfellows need more contributions for their work. Only 35 per cent of the goal has been reached, and only two more weeks remain. Be a Goodfellow soon and help spread the Christmas spirit into the homes of Winona's needy children. Don't let these children hold an empty stocking this Christmas. Send your contribution to The Goodfellows in care of The Daily News.

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Highway Study Commission is recommending to the Legislature a brand new formula for distribution of funds the state gets from automobile licenses and gasoline taxes for highway purposes.

After a lengthy series of public hearings and meetings, the commission voted late Friday that this money be divided 62 per cent to the state highway department, 30 per cent to the 87 counties and 8 per cent to municipalities of over 5,000 population.

Under the present allotment system, the state gets 80 per cent, counties 20 per cent and the municipalities nothing.

The approved formula was suggested by Rep. John Hartle, Owatonna, after two previous resolutions by Rep. Halsted, Brainerd, had been voted down. Halsted first proposed a 60-31-9 per cent split and later revised it to 62-29-9 but lost on both.

Commission members pointed out that any formula suggested has a long road to travel before going into effect. It first must be approved by legislators and then be submitted to voters in the form of a constitutional amendment at the 1956 election.

Even after that, assuming the amendment was passed, it would still require legislative action in 1957 to activate it.

$75,000 for Winona

A. C. Ludwig, League of Minnesota Municipalities executive director, has estimated that the split to municipalities under the Minnesota Highway Study Commission proposal might be as much as $3 per capita.

For Winona that might mean about $75,000, roughly 45 per cent of the present street department budget.

Ludwig labeled his estimate a practical one. Actually the commission proposes $9.60 per capita in Winona's population bracket.

Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer recently was appointed to a league committee to study the new split proposal.

Forrestal, Big Carrier, Has Its Christening

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — The Navy, launching its giant aircraft carrier Forrestal, today hailed the world's biggest warship as "the most versatile and most dispersible weapon in our nuclear arsenal."

Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas said in a speech prepared for the christening ceremony that vessels like the Forrestal can be used for many purposes, including "massive retaliation," a phrase often used by high administration officials in connection with United States defense policy.

The Navy used the christening of the Forrestal to dramatize its bid for a major combat role in this jet-atomic age.

Reply to Montgomery

In his speech, Thomas also seemed to be replying to critics of carriers at home and abroad, including British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery who said recently that the day of the aircraft carrier is approaching its end. Others have argued that a carrier task force can be located easily and destroyed.

Thomas said:

1. "For the foreseeable future, nothing is in prospect which will diminish our need for the continuing control of the seas—the surface of the seas by ships, the air over the seas by naval airpower."

2. The Forrestal with its speed—up to 40 miles per hour—"will indeed be a phantom target for any enemy."

Strong Support for Korean Vets Bonus

By JACK B. MACKAY

ST. PAUL (AP) — Heavy support for enactment of a law extending bonus payment to Korean War veterans exists among members of the next Legislature.

Passage of a bonus act would cost taxpayers around 35 or 40 million dollars, if the law followed the pattern approved by the 1949 Legislature for bonuses to World War II veterans.

A survey by The Associated Press today showed the lawmakers stood six to one in favor of the bonus payments, on the basis of those replying to a questionnaire. Sixty-five solons said they approve and only 11 said they oppose such a law.

This creates an additional headache in solving the financial situation, which Gov.-elect Orville Freeman has described as "the most critical in the state's history."

Arthur Naftalin, state commissioner of administration, and the incoming governor disclosed a few days ago that anticipated revenues in the state general revenue fund will be more than $5 million dollars below the amount needed to meet the budget requests of the various state departments.

Col. L. E. Llygren, state director of selective service, estimated that 143,500 men have entered the armed forces in Minnesota since 1948. Of these 84,370 have been discharged.

It was estimated that more than 100,000 Korean veterans would be eligible to receive bonus payments. William E. Revier, state veterans affairs commissioner, said that 289,784 checks were mailed out to veterans of World War II, or to beneficiaries of deceased veterans.

The 1949 Legislature authorized issuance of 84 million dollars in bonds and subsequently an additional four million dollars in certificates of indebtedness were issued to pay the bonuses.

About half of the 88 million dollars already has been paid. The money for bonus payments is raised through additional income taxes levied on individuals; liquor, beer, iron ore, banks and corpora-

Ike May Change Voting Residence To Gettysburg

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly is planning to change his voting residence soon from New York to Gettysburg, Pa., where he and Mrs. Eisenhower are building a new farm home.

The Civil War battlefield is just 20 miles from the Eisenhowers' weekend retreat at Camp David here in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

The President and his wife drove here from Washington yesterday afternoon and may motor today to Gettysburg to inspect their new battlefield home which will be ready for early next year.

It was learned in Gettysburg yesterday that inquiries have been made on behalf of the White House concerning the hours the Adams County Court House is open for voter registration. Last October the President told friends at his farm he was looking forward to becoming a voting resident of Pennsylvania.

The chief executive's legal residence now is New York City, where he lived while he was president of Columbia University.

On the 65-mile drive to Camp David yesterday, the President surprised two hitchhiking Marines by halting on the outskirts of Washington and arranging a lift for them in another car in his motorcade.

During the 1947 Legislature, about 400 veterans marched into the Capitol with demands for action on a bonus. Some carried banners reading "Tax the Greedy, Not the Needy," "No Sales Tax," and "Business Made Billions, Our Pay $50."

Sen. Gerald T. Mullin, Minneapolis, represented in general the thinking of the lawmakers who oppose a bonus. He pointed out that he opposed the bonus for World War II service men, and added: "We cannot continue to increase costs without a drastic increase in taxes."

Rep. Omar C. Dahle, Waseca, said he favored such a law, but added this comment: "Why not, if they want it. They will be the ones who will have to pay it in the long run."

A number of legislators did not give a "yes" or "no" answer, with some reflecting the view expressed by Rep. Bill Shovel, St. Paul. He answered: "It depends on the method of raising the money."

Erie Juries Convict 2 on Bribery Charges

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Separate Erie County Criminal Court juries have found an Erie Democratic leader and a news stand operator guilty of bribery or conspiracy charges.

Stanley Schwartz, former chairman of the city's Democratic party, was found guilty of one charge of bribery yesterday. A short time later James Provenzano, the news stand operator, was convicted on two bribery charges and one count of conspiracy.

Schwartz and Provenzano are among 36 men indicted on charges ranging from accepting bribes to bribery and conspiracy in connection with what Dist. Atty. Damian McLaughlin calls a gambling syndicate which netted 20 million dollars annually.

The Republican prosecutor led the raids which resulted in arrest of 36 men Oct. 15.

Mayor Thomas W. Flatley, a Democratic leader, was among those arrested.

Flatley pleaded guilty to charges of accepting a bribe and violation of his oath of office.

Mayor Proclaims Wednesday as Safe Driving Day

Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer today proclaimed Wednesday as "Safe Driving Day" and pledged the full support of the city government in making the project a success. He urged all citizens to do their utmost in keeping Winona free of accidents on that day.

"S-D Day" is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with various national organizations, state and local officials. It is a day to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when motorists and pedestrians observe all traffic laws, practice courtesy and devote full attention to driving and walking.

The mayor's proclamation reads: "Whereas, the President of the United States has asked all Americans to unite in a nationwide demonstration that traffic accidents can be avoided if all motorists and pedestrians do their part, and;

"Whereas, the governor of our state has asked all of the communities in Minnesota to support this worthy effort;

"Now, therefore, as mayor of the city of Winona, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, December 15, as 'S-D Day' in this community, and ask all citizens to drive and walk on this day so as to keep the entire 24-hour period free of traffic accidents."

The mayor has designated Roy K. Carpenter, president of the Automobile Club Safety Council of Winona, as director of S-D Day activities here.

Other governmental and civic officials in the city and area have indicated their support of the S-D Day program. Among them are Chief of Police A. J. Bingle; Sheriff George Fort; Superintendent of Schools Harvey D. Jensen; T. W. Smeed, president of the Winona Association of Commerce; Ray G. Kohner, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, the Public Health Nursing Advisory Council and the Winona Future Farmers of America Chapter.

Winona National Honors Cashier

A gold wristwatch was presented to W. M. Lambert, cashier of the Winona National & Savings Bank, at the bank's annual Christmas party in the Marine Room of Swede's Cafe Thursday night.

The presentation was in recognition of 25 years of service to the bank and the watch was engraved to note this record of service.

Lambert became associated with the bank in 1929 when he started as a bookkeeper. Prior to that time, he had worked for the J. R. Watkins Co. He has worked at the bank continuously since 1929 with the exception of 19 months in the U. S. Navy during World War II. He saw active combat duty in the Japanese area.

Lambert was named cashier in 1951 and in this capacity also acts as secretary of the board. He is a holder of the graduate certificate of the American Institute of Banking and is a graduate of the School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin.

In making the presentation, S. J. Kryzsko, president of the bank, welcomed him into the ranks of the quarter century club at the bank. Other members of the bank who are now members of this club are Miss Louise C. Vater, Kryzsko, John Ambrosen and E. W. Miller.

Wabasha Co. Hopes To Make TB 'San' Area Nursing Home

By TOM BERGHS
Daily News Staff Writer

There was a possibility today that Winona County's Board of Commissioners might reverse a decision made earlier this week and extend a contract with Buena Vista TB sanatorium — slated to terminate Feb. 1 — an additional two months, to allow officials at Wabasha time to set up a county-supported nursing home.

Winona County definitely is going to discontinue sending patients to Buena Vista — that was the decision of commissioners Wednesday — but the exact date of that termination is now up for reconsideration, following word from Wabasha late Friday that Wabasha County commissioners plan to request a meeting with Winona County commissioners to study the present situation.

Sleet, Rain Make Roads Hazardous

Freezing morning rains, turning to snow at noon prompted the weatherman today to warn area motorists to stay off Southeastern Minnesota highways today and tonight.

The Minnesota Highway Department dispatched sanding crews to the areas south of a line running east and west through the Twin Cities. Most southern Minnesota areas were reporting temperatures in the high 20s.

The Rochester district highway department said late this morning that glare ice had covered highways in its five-county district. One official said, "It's pretty slick right now (11:30 a. m.) and if it gets any colder it'll be real bad."

In Winona, it began raining about 10 a. m., turned to sleet shortly after and began snowing heavily at 11:30.

Local residents may expect more snow flurries tonight with a low of 20. Sunday will be mostly cloudy with not much change in temperature and a high of 30.

It began to mist at Rushford at 10 a. m., turning to snow later, leaving Highways 16 and 43 "very slick." Snow started falling at Wabasha at 11 a. m.

Highway 44, 16 Mail Service Gets Approval

Post Office Says Bids for Service To Be Asked Soon

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Post Office Department shortly will advertise for bids for highway post office service from La Crosse to Preston on Highway 44 and from Preston to Worthington on Highway 16.

(Washington sources mentioned only Highways 44 and 16. Highway 44 ends at Prosper, and Preston is reached from that point by traveling over Highway 52.)

This represents a change from the route proposed originally. E. George Siedle, assistant postmaster general, wrote Sen. Edward J. Thye that such a route would be in line with the President's directive to the postmaster general to improve the postal service and reduce the cost.

Siedle said the department earlier this year thought a La Crosse-Worthington highway route would not be feasible because of unfavorable road conditions.

"The new proposal in most cases will provide postal patrons in Minnesota with much better mail service than they now receive with a reduction in costs of approximately $50,000 a year," Siedle said.

An aide in Sen. Thye's office said that the proposal merely would substitute highway transportation of the mail instead of moving it by rail.

Sen. Thye's office earlier in the year received several protests about the proposed change when it was first being studied.

Farm Supply Co. Meets at Ettrick

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — George Neibur, Madison, director of finance for the Wisconsin Farm Service, was speaker Thursday at the first annual meeting of the Trempealeau County Cooperative Farm Supply Co. at Ettrick Community Hall.

Neibur discussed reasons for operating and the purposes of cooperatives. Conditions causing farmers to organize cooperatives, he said, were mechanization of farms, the economic situation in the country and the revolution of agriculture and industry. There are at present, he said, 10,000 cooperative organizations in the nation, with a membership of 64 million and a 9-billion-dollar income. Twenty-five per cent of this income, he told, comes from the farmers.

Speaking of Trempealeau County, Neibur said that the Farm Supply Company, under the management of Raymond Westman, has forged ahead since its organization seven years ago.

Farmco Service, Neibur revealed, has 33 member counties in Wisconsin and is the largest manufacturer of fertilizer in the state. In the past two months, Neibur related, in stock drive to raise $500,000, $400,000 has been invested in the company.

Edward Pientok, Independence, and Raymond Westman, secretary and manager, gave financial reports, revealing that Trempealeau County's total reserve for working capital is $4,819.86, while total sales to patrons amounted to $92,424.68. Refunds to 350 patrons amounted to $2,032.17.

A film, "Seeds and Science," showing the scientific method of developing high test, certified seed, was presented by Lawrence A. Rens, Madison, sales supervisor with the Farmco Service, and a trailer display of Farmco products was under the direction of Oliver Ruhnke, Madison, also a sales supervisor.

Motorists Warned To Clean Snow, Ice Off Windows

Motorists were warned today by Chief of Police A. J. Bingle that arrests will be made of drivers operating motor vehicles whose windshields are covered with frost or snow.

Chief Bingle said that a number of cars have been seen driven on streets with the driver's vision reduced because of frost on the windshield.

"Frequently when cars are left outside all night the windows become frosted and the driver does not take the time in the morning to clear the windshield before beginning to drive," the chief said.

"Such reduction in vision is a cause of many winter accidents and patrolmen have been instructed to be on the lookout for cars that are being driven with frosted, snow- or ice-covered windshields."

Electrical Power Failure Changes Banquet Program Of Buffalo County Co-op

By EARL GILBERT
Daily News Area Editor

GILMANTON, Wis. — Power failed as 400 Buffalo County farmers and businessmen were about to dine together and hear an address on electric power at the high school here Friday night.

As it turned out, they first heard the address and then dined. Clyde Ellis, Washington, D. C., executive manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, figuratively "spoke for his supper" as the meal was delayed two hours to 9 o'clock because of a burned out transformer adjacent to the school. It failed about 5 p.m. when extra stoves and electric roasters were turned on in the school kitchen as band mothers of the district were preparing the meal for the annual banquet of the Buffalo County Association of Cooperatives and county businessmen.

Auditorium Chilled

Repairsmen installed a new transformer by 7 p.m. But by this time the large auditorium was chilled and hopes of having the meal on schedule were dashed. The large crowd of farmers and businessmen and their wives waited patiently while the room warmed up, then listened intently while Ellis outlined major problems confronting REA.

"The overall electric power industry is the fastest growing industry in the country today," he said. "But rural electric co-ops have their problems."

"First is a need for federal funds. Building facilities have to be larger as services grow. The federal government does not lose a cent by loaning us money. In fact they earn on it. The funds are returned by the government to the American money market then loaned to us at interest. It is being paid back ahead of schedule."

"The second problem," he stated, "is power supply. We can't find enough. We are now spending more than $100 million annually for commercial power."

The former Arkansas congressman told the audience that Dairyland Power Cooperative, headquartered in La Crosse, was the first generating-transmitting power co-op in the U.S. It now is the biggest generating-transmitting system in the country belonging to the rural co-op network.

Source of Power Commercial companies fight our generating our own power," Ellis continued. "They are controlled by eastern interests. The federal power policy is changed today. We must negotiate with private power companies in order to buy electricity. After purchasing it at their price we distribute it for less in sparsely settled rural areas than they do in cities. They don't like this."

"Power has to be generated for many to be efficient. The big hydro-electric dams provide the lowest cost power. Our government wholesales this power, it never retails it."

Praising the late Republican Sen. George Norris of Nebraska as the champion of rural power development, Ellis continued, "Always the program has had bi-partisan support. It is not a partisan program. Today, however, the federal power policy has changed."

Comments on TVA

TVA was set up by the government in the poor Tennessee valley area, he said, and the U.S. has developed hydro-electric power, soil and water conservation and transportation in a seven-state area. There are 51 power cooperatives in the area now serving an average of 7,000 families.

Under the new administration policy of having private companies sell the power to REA for distribution, Ellis explained, Dixon-Yates would supply power to TVA for sale to atomic energy plants. This contract was not negotiated by competitive bids, he said, and will cost $150 million more over the life of the contract than if TVA produced the power itself.

About electricity supplied by atomic power, Ellis revealed that all is now known that needs to be known about the process. "A pile of atoms you could carry in a suitcase will produce electricity, probably as long as we can imagine. This process is already at work and the time of atomic power for producing electricity is short at hand. The atoms supply fuel to make heat to produce steam to run turbines to make electricity the same as coal, oil or water do today.

"The supply of uranium in the U. S. today without any imports is estimated to be able to produce 16-20 times as much energy as all the coal and oil we possess."

"We have two advantages over our enemies—mass production and the use of electricity. We are ahead of the Soviets in both. Some fight us all the time as we try to attain the maximum of electric production. I think they are stupid," he concluded.

Adolph Maassen, Alma, president of the Buffalo Co-op Association, presided. Other directors are: Fred Puhli, Mondovi; Arthur Benjamin, Maassen; Nelson; John Hartman, Alma; and Wilmer Rosenow, Waumandee. The Rev. Leslie Pardon, Gilmanton Evangelical United Brethren Church, said grace; the Rev. Lloyd McCormick, Montana, EUB, gave the benediction.

Entertainment Program

Entertainment was provided by the Six Foot Four, a quartet whose members are Fred Linse, Reike and Harold Moy and James Heland, all of Mondovi. Mrs. Jean Myhre, Ellsva, played the organ during the dinner.

Ellis is a native of Bentonville, Ark., and served six years in his state Legislature before going to Washington in 1939. He served two terms in the House of Representatives before taking the job with NRECA.

There are 21 member cooperatives in the Buffalo County association representing 85-90 per cent of the farm families in the county, according to Maassen. Businessmen of the area were guests at the annual affair.

Knutson Pleads Not Guilty to Murder Charge

Judge Richardson Schedules Trial For January 25

PRESTON, Minn. (Special) — A plea of not guilty to second degree murder was entered by Ernest Knutson, 35, Lanesboro, in District Court here Friday afternoon.

Trial was set for Jan. 25 by Judge A. C. Richardson, Austin. Knutson remains in custody of the sheriff for failure to furnish a $50,000 bond.

A jury will be picked from the October petit jury panel, according to Kenneth Hall, Fillmore County clerk of court. A few names might have to be added as prospective jurors are screened by attorneys at the time of trial. A total of 144 names are kept in the jury box at all times. County commissioners submit new lists the first of the year and these names will not be used before those already on the panel.

The Lanesboro man earlier signed a confession admitting to the shooting of Walter Kruegel, Fillmore County deputy sheriff Nov. 1 while being brought into Preston for questioning, according to Sheriff Donald Cook. Kruegel later died from the gunshot wounds in a Rochester hospital.

Until Tuesday Knutson was held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. At that time a 21-member grand jury returned an indictment of second degree murder. C. F. Peters, Chaffield attorney, was appointed by a court as defendant's counsel. He asked for a delay in entering a plea and was given until 3 p.m. yesterday.

Knutson was picked up on a complaint by a Fillmore County farmer for repeatedly trespassing on his property, allegedly for courting the farmer's daughter. It was while en route to Preston in Kruegel's car that the shooting took place. Two bullets entered the deputy's abdomen. Knutson fled and gave himself up to county officials later the same night.

After hearing Knutson's plea Judge Richardson adjourned court to Dec. 20.

Father Ordered To Pay Support

A Winona father Friday afternoon was ordered to make weekly payments for the support of his wife and three children after he was found guilty in municipal court on a charge of nonsupport.

Found guilty of the charge brought by his wife was John Mueller Jr., 23, Winona Rt. 1, whose trial before Judge E. D. Libera was completed at 3 p.m. The court imposed a 60-day jail sentence but suspended the sentence on the condition that Mueller pay $15 a week for the support of his family during the next year. He was ordered to post a $1,000 bond to guarantee maintenance of the payments.

City Prosecutor William A. Lindquist directed the prosecution and S. A. Sawyer represented Mueller. Witnesses called by Sawyer Friday afternoon included Mrs. John Mueller, 23, Winona Rt. 1, and Frank Dublin, Winona.

Lindquist recalled the defendant's wife as a rebuttal witness.

Goodview Youth Admits Beer Theft

The arrest of a 16-year-old Goodview youth for the theft of four cases of beer from the Interstate Beverage Co. warehouse in Goodview was reported today by Sheriff George Fort.

Sheriff Fort said that the youth has admitted that he forced the latch on a door of the warehouse on the night of Nov. 20, entered the building and removed the four cases of beer.

The boy was quoted by the sheriff as saying that he carried the beer a distance of about 200 feet from the building and buried it in weeds and grass.

Later, the sheriff said, the boy and his companions drank one case of beer and sold two cases. One of the cases was stolen from the hiding place, the sheriff said the boy told him.

The youth has been referred to juvenile authorities here.

Frank Sinatra Tells Story of Latest Tussle

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra last night gave his version of the tussle he had with a press agent on the Sunset Strip Thursday morning, and his story proved far different.

James Byron, freelance press agent, told reporters that the crooner-turned-actor had accosted him in front of a night club and engaged in fistfights.

Byron claimed Sinatra had objected to questions about a friend's date and said Byron was either a cop or a newspaperman—and he hated both.

The press agent also claimed Sinatra and his party tried to sneak drinks out of the club after hours. In an exclusive interview, Sinatra gave me this account of the incident:

"Bob Neal and his date and I had spent the evening at the birthday party for Sammy Davis Jr. We were leaving about midnight when we decided to drop in on Mel Tormé's show at the Crescendo. We thought Judy Garland might want to join us since her husband, Sid Luft, is in the East. So we called her and she joined us.

"We arrived at the Crescendo about 12:30 and saw the show. The story that we tried to sneak champagne out of the place is an outright lie. I've been around night clubs too long to pull a high school trick like that. I know what problems the managers have with after-hours regulations.

"As we were leaving the place, this guy Byron—and I don't know who he is—called Bob Neal over and asked who the 'broad' was with me. Bob came back and told me about it and I went over to Byron and asked who he was. He said he didn't see that he had to tell me.

"He was trying to make it seem an illicit date or something. Anybody who thinks that has got to be a pretty sick guy. Especially when Judy was six months pregnant.

"I told him I resented his calling Judy a 'broad.' I added that if he didn't know who Judy Garland was, he must have been living under a rock.

"We had a couple more words, and he said something like 'We'll take care of you.' I couldn't understand that and I asked him what he meant. He said, 'never mind.' I told him it was obvious that he was nothing but a parasite. He said that obviously I was a—

"I went back to Judy and told her to hold her wrap. Then I went back to Byron and told him to take his glasses off. Then suddenly two guys held my arms and Byron tried to kneel me. He succeeded in denting my shin bone and clawing my hand. I couldn't do anything because I was held by the two men.

"I broke loose. It ended when I gave him a left hook and dumped him on his fanny. Then I got scared. It was obvious he didn't know how to defend himself and I didn't want any trouble. It ended there."

Sinatra added that such events as these limit his night club attendance. "And I won't be going to a night spot for some time to come."

He denied he said anything derogatory about newspapermen or policemen.

School Principals Urged to Organize Snowball Tossing

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The Grand Rapids Board of Education yesterday urged school principals to launch a program of organized snowball tossing at targets and strictly on school grounds.

A bulletin issued by the board's office of physical education warned principals against making targets to represent teachers, policemen, autos, dogs of cats, it suggests, standard bulls-eye target of suitable size.

By this means the board hopes to release from danger such popular objectives as teachers, policemen, autos, dogs and cats.

Simple 'Vurking' Girl Welcome Mixed Trying to Get Ahead South of Border

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Up in Zsa Zsa's Boudoir" was to be the title of this adventure.

I was to interview her as she lolled among the pillows of her enchantress' den on 5th Ave. . . . and photograph her as she lay clad—if you could call it that—in a slinky negligee.

"Sweetheart," she pleaded, when I arrived . . . "I never made a picture in a negligee yet. Life magazine says I have sex appeal in my brains, not in my boudoir."

Plopping down on a divan, she began confessing to me about the "new Zsa Zsa"—the one that admits there was some hogwash to the eyepatch—the Zsa Zsa who is just a simple "vurking girl."

"Dollie, I'm a serious actress . . . I'm not jucking!" She looked up at me appealingly. "Oh, that can make me such a bad publicity last year."

She referred to a Hollywood press agent who engineered her headline battle with Barbara Hutton.

"How about the eyepatch? Did you get a sock in the eye?" I asked.

"I never got a sock in the eye!" Zsa Zsa shouted. "We did have a little fight, but . . ."

She flicker a finger as though it were a love tap, greatly magnified, and hurried on to her story of being a "vurking girl."

"I have made by tensess picture in 2 1/2 years. I'm taking every day an acting lesson from Michael Chekov. Nobody can attack my acting any more."

"Would your teacher be related to the great Chekov?"

"He's a nephew of him! He also taught Rubi for our picture we make in Mexico, 'Western Affair.'"

About this time Miss Gabor decided she would, after all, agree to pose in a negligee, and went to change into a Dior number.

"Zis is a Dior, but he can't go flat with me, because vot's he going to do with me?" she said when she came out in it . . . or should I say out of it?

"What is the secret of your success with men?" I dared inquire.

"Men! You mean man!" she flung back. "I'm a one-man's woman. I'm always staying with one man for years. I'm an honest, good woman. Any girl can trust her man with me."

"But they say you took Rubirosa from Barbara Hutton . . ."

"Barbara Hutton took my man away from me!" Zsa Zsa corrected me. "He was my man for years."

"She came right to our table and said to him she liked him. She took him away . . . but not for long!"

Inasmuch as I had not been supposed to ask Zsa Zsa about that great debacle, I veered from it for a second. She said that four of her movies will be out shortly, and

Fifth Poisoning Charge Filed Against Widow

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—A fifth charge of murder was filed yesterday against grandmother Nanette Doss, who confessed to poisoning four of her five husbands.

Sheriff A. A. Pate of Calhoun County announced Mrs. Doss was charged with killing Frank (Robert Franklin) Harrelson, her second husband who died in 1945.

Ernest J. Harrelson, brother of the dead man, signed a first degree murder warrant after Pate disclosed arsenic had been found in the organs of Frank Harrelson. Murder charges against Mrs. Doss have been filed in these other deaths:

Arlis Lanning, husband No. 3, who died in 1952 in Lexington, N.C.

Richard Morton Sr., husband No. 4, who died in 1953 at Emporia, Kan.

Samuel Doss, husband No. 5 who died in 1954 in Tulsa.

Mrs. Louise H. Hazel, 75, mother of Mrs. Doss, who died in 1953 at Lexington, N.C.

Mrs. Doss has denied that she poisoned her mother or any other blood relative. She is being held in jail at Tulsa.

A toxicologist's report on the death of a sister and grandson is awaited here.

Autopsies on the bodies of 2-year-old Robert Lee Higgins and Mrs. Dovie Weaver of Gadsden, Ala., have not been completed. The child died in 1945, and Mrs. Weaver in 1950.

Midget Saves Life Of Circus Aerialist

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—A midget circus clown is a man-sized hero today.

Alvin Schwartz, who is 48 inches high and 105 pounds, was credited with saving Gladys Rimmer, an aerialist, from serious injury and possible death.

Miss Rimmer was practicing an aerial act at winter quarters of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus yesterday when her foot slipped from a loop and she fell about 30 feet.

Schwartz, on the ground holding the rope when Miss Rimmer fell, threw himself into her path and broke her fall.

Schwartz had several broken ribs but was discharged from a hospital after treatment. Miss Rimmer was treated for shock.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Winter Fishing

Winter fishing moved in this weekend as the major recreation along this sector of the river. Safe fishing ice, more than three inches, prevails today over most of the backwaters, although the main channel is still open, even above most of the dams. Fishermen who use houses are beginning to move them onto the ice at Lake Pepin, Fountain City Bay, and other backwaters where this type of fishing is popular.

Holes, slightly over a foot in diameter cut in the ice unprotected by any cover, a short pole, a bit of line and can of worms, plus warm clothing are the requirements of most of this ever-increasing winter fishing population which will dot the most of the backwaters from Red Wing south to the Iowa line and beyond.

Twenty fair sized sunfish are shown in the catch spread out on the ice in the above picture. Norman Mueller, 620 E. Wabasha St., was one of the two dozen fishermen Friday afternoon on Barillet Lake near the Airport.

All of the fishermen had a few fish and some, like Mueller were well on the way toward a limit catch for the day. Reports from their fishing spots like Onalaska, Buffalo City and Peterson Lake told of sunfish catches. A few northerners were being taken on big minnows.

The DeSoto and Stoddard areas, where sunfish were hitting like mad during the mid-week period, are the goal of the smart local ice fishermen. As the season advances more hot spots will be revealed. An ice fisherman who discovers such a spot doesn't even tell his wife.

Tell-tale tracks in the snow too often lead to good fishing spots like marked highways. Cars parked along a road are another give-away. Anyway—after a couple of weekends—one is apt to find his secret "hot spot" black with fishermen some Saturday afternoon.

Swedish King Presents Nobel Prizes for '54

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—King Gustaf Adolf VI presented 1954 Nobel prizes worth about $140,000 to five Americans and two Germans Friday at traditional ceremonies marked by royal pomp, musty academic rites and solemn music.

The seven shared four prizes. Of the Americans only Ernest Hemingway, failed to show up. He is in Cuba still nursing injuries suffered in African plane crashes. U.S. Ambassador J. Moors Cabot represented Hemingway. Anders Osterling, secretary of the Swedish Royal Academy of Literature, made the award and called Hemingway "one of the great authors of our time."

The Americans present included a trio recognized for their work in discovering new weapons in the fight against polio. The three, sharing the prize for medicine and physiology, were Dr. John F. Enders, 67, of the Harvard Medical School; Dr. Thomas H. Weller, 39, of the Harvard School of Public Health, and Dr. Frederick C. Robbins, 38, their former associate now at Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland.

The fourth American was Dr. Linus Pauling, 51, California Institute of Technology, this year's winner in chemistry.

Dr. Max Born, 73, and Dr. Walter Bothe, 63, Germans, shared the physics prize. Bothe, hospitalized in West Germany, could not attend. His two daughters, Miss Johanna Bothe and Mrs. Oswald Riedel, represented him.

The three American winners for polio research were hailed by Dr. Sven Gard of Sweden as paving the way for better ways of beating down diseases such as the common cold, mumps, measles and chickenpox. He said much work must yet be done in this field, but called the Americans' discoveries "a new epoch" that stirred scientific workers all over the world.

Prof. Gunnar Haegge of Sweden lauded Dr. Pauling as a pioneer in science for his work "in a diversity of subjects ranging over wide fields of chemistry, physics and even medicine."

The prize in each field is worth about $35,000 in cash but bring prestige far exceeding their cash value.

There was no peace prize this year. The cash for the awards come from interest on the nine-million-dollar fund left by Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite. He died in 1896 and the first prizes were awarded in 1901. The award to Hemingway today, the last presented, was the 284th Nobel prize given since then.

Hope Rests With Polio Vaccine, Says Fund Drive Speaker

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two famous polio warriors—the Salk vaccine and gamma globulin—hold the key to the 1955 polio season throughout the nation, according to President Basil O'Connor of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In a speech at a meeting of March of Dimes volunteers yesterday, O'Connor said full hope is being placed on the vaccine, developed at the University of Pittsburgh's Medical School. They expect it to be "at least 65 to 75 per cent effective," he said.

At the same time, he said, gamma globulin is a fraction of the human blood which contains polio fighting antibodies.

Ad Alley Pickups

A brief mention of interesting items about people, business places and campaigns as compiled by The Winona Daily News ad department.

Arthur E. Hill, 174 E. King St., replaces Jim Schaffer as local agent for Hardware Mutuals of Stevens Point, Wis. Schaffer has been promoted to sales manager of Southern Minnesota. At the same time, the insurance company announced an increase in return dividend on private passenger cars from the present 15 per cent to 20 per cent.

The new dividend rate resulted from safer driving by those who are insured by the company and will apply to any policy expiring after Dec. 1, 1954. Carl N. Jacobs, president of the firm, referred to the dividend as a million dollar reward for safer driving and estimated the increased dividend at over a million dollars for the next year, bringing the entire 20 per cent dividend to over four million dollars for Hardware Mutuals policyholders.

Christmas shopping got off with a huge rush the first week of December, and sales records were set all over the country. One large department store in the South had the greatest single-day volume in its 87-year history. Some store sales were 30 per cent higher than last year. And if you think Winona was crowded with shoppers, how would you like to have been in Chicago's Loop where 800,000 shoppers jammed the area!

Hugh Orphan has moved his upholstery shop from Fifth street over to 427 E. Broadway where he will continue to do re-upholstery and custom work. Hugh says he'll be happy to see his old customers and new ones at his new location. His phone number remains the same—4104. Hugh is in the upholstery business here.

Rayburn Will Ban Radio-TV Hearings

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON — Speaker Sam Rayburn will wipe House committee hearings off your TV screen for at least the next two years, Congressional Quarterly has learned. And he plans to ban radio, newsreels, and recordings, too.

The House could override Rayburn, who will take over as Speaker of the Democratic chamber on Jan. 5, by changing the rules. But the chances are slim.

As one Capitol expert on radio and TV told CQ: "If Sam says no, that's the way it will be." And Sam says no. Rayburn told CQ: "I do" intend to ban radio-television coverage.

"I will" oppose attempts to authorize such broadcasts through a rules change.

One newly-elected representative, Mrs. Martha M. Griffiths

(D-Mich.), has proposed that occasional floor sessions, as well as committee hearings, be televised. In 1951, when a similar proposal was made, Rayburn said: "Television sessions of the House? Hell, no!"

The speaker banned television, radio, newsreels, and recordings of hearings in 1952. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.), who protested the ban, revoked it when he succeeded to Rayburn's gavel in 1953. He left the question to the committee. Among the televised House committee hearings during the 83rd Congress were sessions of the Un-American Activities Committee and the special committee investigating tax-exempt foundations.

No House rule specifically bans or authorizes radio-TV coverage of committees or floor sessions. Through usage, the speaker has assumed authority over the matter. Rayburn's position is that House committees are subject to the same rules as the House, therefore, no radio or TV.

The House, he says, is free to bring in the microphones and cameras by passing a rules change.

which he would oppose. The question of radio and television coverage of Senate hearings has been left to the discretion of the committees concerned. According to current prospects, this set-up will remain unchanged during the 84th Congress.

No legislative session of House or Senate has ever been broadcast or televised, but for years it has been the practice to put the President on the air when he speaks before joint sessions. Other major addresses before joint sessions—such as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's homecoming speech in 1951—also have been broadcast. Joint sessions are held in the House chamber, and the speaker—as overseer of that side of the Capitol—super-vises their conduct.

44,083,112 Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—More voters turned out Nov. 2 than in any previous midterm election in history. Official tabulations from 41 states and unofficial totals from the seven others showed yesterday that 44,083,112 voters went to the polls last month. This was 1,621,030 more than in 1950, the previous high for a nonpresidential election.

Two New Towboats Soon To Be Seen on Upper River

Officials of Mississippi Valley Barge Line Co., St. Louis, have disclosed details of two new towboats now under construction at Dravo Corporation's Pittsburgh shipyard for addition to the MVBL fleet.

Each of the vessels is to be powered with two diesel engines, having a total rating of 4,200 horsepower at 514 R.P.M.

Modern in every detail, the towboats will help MVBL meet the steadily increasing demands of river traffic by handling larger barge tows at faster speeds.

Design of the vessels is based on extensive model basin tests made by Dravo at the Netherlands Testing Basin in Wageningen, Holland. The tests were conducted to obtain data that would result in the selection of hull form, propeller diameter and other factors for achieving high propulsive efficiency.

The towboats are to be 200 feet long, 45 feet wide and 12 feet deep. Their basic draft, with a normal load of 370 tons of diesel fuel, is 8 feet 9 inches. Provisions are made for increasing the fuel storage capacity when operations require and conditions permit.

Each propeller on the vessel will be constructed of manganese bronze, with five blades and measuring ten feet in diameter. The propellers will be enclosed in specially designed nozzles of cast alloy steel. These nozzles help direct the proper flow of water to the propellers. Propeller revolutions are relatively low, 187 per minute, to gain efficiency.

The 2,100-horsepower Nordberg, non-reversing marine engines will drive the propellers through oil-operated reverse-reduction gears, having a reduction ratio of 2.75 to 1. These gears also permit reversing the boat's direction without stopping the engines.

As is standard on nozzle-equipped river towboats, three rudders are used for each propeller. The steering rudder is aft of each nozzle while two flanking rudders are installed forward of the nozzle.

Because of the large size of the vessels, and their power plants, the steel hulls will be strengthened by installation of four longitudinal bulkheads, in addition to usual welded framing and transverse bulkheads.

An innovation in the design of the new MVBL towboats is the installation of diesel generator sets in a special compartment having sound-deadening insulation in the walls. This reduces generator engine noise.

Another feature is a special sound-insulated office for the chief engineer of the boat. In this office, which overlooks the engine room, there will be installed all of the principal gauges, thermometers, controls and other accessories, as well as the engine room controls necessary for operating the main engines.

Accommodations for the crew aboard the vessel are designed for maximum comfort. There are six staterooms on the Texas (upper) deck and five on the main deck. No regular crew member will be assigned to a double-deck bunk. There are two lounges, one for officers and the other for the crew.

Following MVBL's latest practice in towboat design, the mess room will have counter type service with facilities for seating ten persons at a time. A kitchenette also is provided off the crew's lounge on the main deck.

In the pilothouse, the floor of which is about 23 feet above the waterline, all the latest equipment for dependable river navigation will be installed. This includes radar, automatic pilot, depth finder, radio, gyrocompass and a sound-powered telephone system.

For the first time on an inland river towboat, steering levers and main engine controls will be installed on both the port and starboard bridges, as well as in the pilothouse. This feature is expected to add to the overall operating efficiency of the towboats.

The new vessels will join MVBL's fleet some time in 1955. In the MVBL fleet at present, there are 19 diesel-powered towboats and four steamboats. These new towboats will soon be seen passing the Winona levee.

These Days

Liberty Can't Exist In a Corrupt People

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — Sen. Mike Mansfield is generally regarded as a liberal with a big L. A liberal used to be defined as a person who believed in an increase in the liberties of the individual man. David Hume, the philosopher who so affected the thought which brought our country into existence, defined liberty as follows:

"... by liberty, then, we can only mean a power of acting or not acting, according to the determinations of the will; this is, if we choose to remain at rest, we may; if we choose to move, we also may. Now this hypothetical liberty is universally allowed to belong to every one who is not a prisoner and in chains."

WHEN THEREFORE Sen. Mansfield would deprive a retired army or navy officer of the right to speak his mind or join a cause, of his own free will and at his own risk, he would deprive him of his liberty. Edmund Burke made the point that "among a people generally corrupt, liberty cannot long exist," which is why the Marxists find themselves in difficulties because they have permitted themselves to be corrupted by enslavement to a discipline and a conspiracy and reject the doctrine of free will by the acceptance of mental and moral regimentation. It is precisely this regimentation that must be fought off in the United States.

Sen. Mansfield takes the position that military officers have been "taken care of" from the time they enter West Point or Annapolis until they are buried in Arlington National Cemetery. He said: "They should not lend their good names and prestige to movements which are contrary to the best interests of the United States."

He would deprive each man of their liberty and force them to conform to some dictated but temporary view because they once were employed by the government of the United States. Such a position makes employment a liability because it reduces such a person to secondary citizenship. Can anyone imagine Gen. Douglas MacArthur being silenced because he was for half a century employed in the United States Army?

IN THE MATTER OF John Paton Davies Jr., it does not seem to be reasonable that the State Department should withhold the money due him—or for that matter of anyone else—unless he signs a contract gagging him. Is money worth that much? He has the right, as a person and a citizen, to devote his life to the defense of his integrity. We grant that right to a murderer, a rapist, a thief, a spy. Shall we refuse that right to a man because he was in the employ of the State Department?

Let us consider two hypothetical cases: 1. Suppose John Paton Davies Jr., wishes to fight his case on the thesis that he was asked to do certain things by the CIA or by the State Department and that whatever he did was only in fulfillment of his duty. Shall he be deprived of the right to try to prove such a defense? Is he not entitled to document such a case if he can? Is he forever to bear the stigma of rejection without the opportunity to clear himself?

2. Suppose Alger Hiss wishes to prove that he was not a Communist, not a spy for Soviet Russia, but that he served his government in a special manner at the request, let us say, of the president of the United States. I do not know that there is the slightest truth in such a hypothesis or that Alger Hiss wants to do anything of the sort. But suppose he does, has anyone the moral right to deprive him of the freedom to fight for his name, his place in the world, even to his dying day, only because he was employed by the government of the United States?

IF IMPOSED CONFORMITY is wrong for a university professor, it is wrong for a general, an admiral or anybody. If imposed conformity is wrong for those who call themselves liberals or progressives, it is wrong for those who call themselves conservatives or moderates or nothing at all. If it is wrong for anybody, it is wrong for everybody.

It is more important that we have overt differences of opinion with ample opportunity for their expression than that we suffer from the suppressive effects of conformity and unity. When we have an intellectual goose-step in this country, it may eliminate all the yak-yak of contentment, but we shall no longer be a thinking or a free people. We shall worship those in office as the German people cringed before any man in a uniform.

McCarthy's Record Ike's Best Comeback

By BREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If I were Ike—I would be President Eisenhower, and had Sen. McCarthy accused me of being nice to "those who are torturing American uniformed men," I should have come back with McCarthy's vigorous defense of Nazi Storm Troopers who shot down helpless, undefended American prisoners at Malmédy. I would have quoted McCarthy's brazen charge that American officers stuck the ends of lighted matches under the fingernails of Nazi Storm Troopers to make them confess the Malmédy murders . . . I would have shown how he ranted and raved and finally stomped out of the hearings when fellow senators defended American uniformed men . . . "White-ed a Democratic landslide over CBS last November and got way out on a limb. Perhaps because of this, the Democrats used an IBM machine to sort out the 1,350 dinner guests at their testimonial dinner in New Orleans last week. But about 3 p.m., before the dinner, some bum I should have discovered that the machine had failed to reckon on 140 people, all of whom had paid for the $100, and all of whom felt they were entitled to eat cold ham—even though the machine had counted them out.

So the Democrats say IBM isn't a bit better than Remington Rand. Some people even suggest that it was an IBM machine that promoted Peress.

Departmental Changes Pres. Eisenhower is planning an important reshuffle of his Commerce Department.

Louis Rothschild, the Kansas City department-store owner who has turned out to be one of the best maritime commissioners ever appointed, is expected to be shifted to the Commerce Department as Undersecretary for Transportation, replacing Robert B. Murray Jr., the bureaucrat who busied himself with taking trips at the taxpayers' expense in government airplanes. One flight to Puerto Rico, with Mrs. Murray along, was to inspect "rain-making."

Replacing Rothschild will be Ben Guill, now assistant to Postmaster Gen. Sumnerfield and one of the few Republicans ever elected to Congress from Texas. Guill was elected from the Amarillo district in 1949, was later defeated, and is now working in the Post Office Department.

Just what Guill, a dry-land Texan, knows about shipping remains to be seen; but Rothschild, a dry-land businessman from Missouri, has done an excellent job. Meanwhile, Ike is planning to appoint another lame-duck congressman to be Asst. Sec. of Agriculture replacing ex-Congressman Ross Ritzley of Oklahoma. It will be either Cong. Wesley D' Ewart, defeated in the Montana Senate race by Sen. Jim Murray, or Cong. Oakley Hunter of Fresno, Calif.

Washington Pipeline Some White House aides are so pessimistic about the chances of President Eisenhower running for re-election that they are already looking for outside jobs . . . The Justice Department has called for the Senate files on the Arlington Towers case, one of the juicier FEA windfalls. This is the hottest case turned over to the Justice Department so far. It involves a contractor who rebuilt the White House . . . Sen. Mike Monroney of

Science Finds New Health Safeguards

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Medical science makes great strides each month in developing new medications and treatments to protect the health of you and your children. Among the latest advances are:

Hydrocortisone: A modification of the drug cortisone, which has been used so effectively in the treatment of arthritis, and many other disorders. In helping bring relief to arthritis victims, it can be injected directly into painful joints and also into connective tissues.

It has also helped bring relief of low back pain due to fibrositis, which is an inflammation of the connective tissues, such as the ligaments.

It is useful in eye disorders. Serpasil: A preparation derived from a plant known as Rauwolfia serpentina. It is used to control hypertension and nervous pressure in general. It has been helpful in calming and soothing patients under strain. Excellent results have been obtained when given to psychotic persons in a state of anxiety.

Antihistamine Relative. Chlorpromazine: A drug related chemically to the antihistamines. Demonstrations have shown it aids in relaxing muscles, relieving itching, lowering body temperature and increasing the effectiveness of analgesics.

While it acts as a sedative, it does not confuse or depress mental processes. It has been used effectively with another drug, disulfiram, in treating chronic alcoholics, keeping them calm and even helping some of them sleep during the withdrawal period.

As little as a single dose has helped patients who had been suffering severe nausea and had been vomiting.

Trevidal: Available only for experimental purposes, it is a mixture of a vegetable gum, a cooked oatmeal derivative and antacids. Ulcer patients report the tablets give excellent results. Of 123 patients tested, 115 said they got distinct or complete relief of symptoms.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. G.: I have been bothered for years with perspiring hands. Can you advise me what to do? Answer: Excessive sweating of the palms may be an indication of some general disorder, such as an infection or perhaps even difficulty with the thyroid gland. In many cases, it is a localized condition, the cause for which cannot be determined.

There is no treatment which is of any particular value. Of course, a careful search should be made for the cause, so that it can be eliminated just as soon as it is discovered.

Oklahoma will redouble its efforts to investigate the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency—as a result of reports that CIA bungling was partly responsible for some of the prison sentences given Americans in China.

We Must Not Lose Sight of Primary Objectives

To the Editor:

Through the smoke of battle over foreign policy it is easy to lose sight of primary objectives. No one can add two and two and think Russia's goal is anything less than world domination. Stakes are high and a wrong step, especially a big one, could cost us the game. War in the Orient could be such a step.

Prime prizes in the international cold war since firing ceased in World War II have been and still are the productive capacity and genius of Japan and Western Germany. We have managed to maintain the dominant friendships with these two nations and it is imperative that this relationship continue or the balance of productive power which is now in our favor will swing to our enemies. Though Russia and her satellites have the edge in manpower, we still have the big edge in steel production. Modern wars are won with equipment, not human flesh.

If either or both of these powers fall into Russian hands, America will be on the short end of the odds. We can't hold the line all over the globe without all out mobilization so some things have had to be relinquished to keep the important areas. As one looks back on the Berlin blockade, the Marshall plan, NATO, the Korean War and more recently the Formosa pact with Nationalist China, it becomes clear that the struggle to maintain the upper hand in Europe and Japan has been the main theme of our postwar policy.

A war with China would leave us vulnerable in Europe and the chances are that while we were embroiled there, Russia would pick up all the marbles behind our back on the European continent. If we were fortunate enough to take China without plunging the whole world into war, what would we have but grief? China has no productive genius like unto either Japan or Germany. Her millions of homeless and starving would be a further burden upon us.

Japan has the highest standard of living in the Orient. She humbled China and fought us at the same time a little more than a decade ago. Which explains in part why we had to fight in Korea and will fight in Formosa if Red China invades. Loss of either would leave Japan in jeopardy.

Proof of the value of these two areas lies in the fact that everything except a declaration of war by China has been tried to get us to fight an Asiatic war and every time Europe takes another step toward rearming itself, Russia takes action. Ike has been in favor of a strong Europe and international cooperation since heading the allied armies during the last war. He was the first commander of NATO. It was from this post that he vaulted into the presidency without previous political experience. Most Americans must have favored this stand for they gave him the biggest vote ever.

The opposing wing of his party was openly stumping for a "go it alone" policy and favored drastic action in China. It was about this time that Gen. Douglas MacArthur was relieved of command in Korea after expressing a desire to expand the conflict in the Orient.

So this internal struggle is nothing new. Everyone seems to have a different solution to all our troubles. Yet, let's not forget the real prizes and lose them through impulsive action. We cannot afford to go off half-cocked. The man in the White House, it would seem, is more to be relied on when it comes to making decisions on global strategy than one who is less schooled in warfare. Ike spent the greater part of his life in government service and is recognized as one of our greatest generals. Surely his judgment on military matters, and most of our international problems involve military decisions, is more authoritative than those who have not worn the uniform at all or only for a short time during World War II.

It is time that we pulled together on the things that count and not let the trees keep us from seeing the forest.

'Yup,' 'Nope' Make Cooper Rich Cowboy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Yup, I had lunch with Gary Cooper. Nope, he didn't bend my ear much.

But it isn't true that the conversation of the screen's strong silent man—"the cowboy's cowboy"—is limited to such expressions as "yup" and "nope."

"That idea got started years ago when I used only those two words in a gag radio interview with Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy," said Cooper, grinning and rubbing his chin. Actually, Cooper likes to talk as well as the next man—provided the next man isn't the kind of a guy who just opens his mouth for the pleasure of making sound waves. He simply believes that actions really speak louder than words, off-screen as well as on.

Modo 60 Films Cooper, who recently co-starred with Burt Lancaster in "Vera Cruz," has been in more than 80 films and earned between 10 and 15 million dollars. Industry sources estimate his income at about $500,000 a year, most of which Gary hands over to his podner, the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

How has he managed to stay on top for so many years? Cooper wasn't sure.

"Oh, if you hang around for a long time, people just get used to you," he said, then hesitated and added:

"But there is such a thing as keeping up with the parade. There is an awful lot of luck in it. Getting established in the right roles is good—but you have to stray beyond them too, so you don't become monotonous."

Wen 2 Oscars

Cooper is one of only three male actors who have twice won Academy Awards. He received his Oscars for "Sergeant York" and "High Noon."

For the last 20 years Cooper has shown astute judgment in picking roles he felt were right for him, and a high percentage of his films have been top boxoffice draws. "Sure you can make mistakes," he said, ruefully rubbing his chin. "And I made a dilly. Once I had a chance at a part that really interested me, but I was snarled up with other commitments and it wasn't altogether certain at the time the picture would be made."

Later Clark Gable took the role. It was in a little picture called "Gone With the Wind," the biggest money maker in history. Yup.

Wisconsin GOP Commends Both Ike, McCarthy

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Commendation of President Eisenhower and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was voted yesterday by the Executive Committee of the Republican party of Wisconsin.

The group called for party unity and voiced regret for "the conflicts of personalities which have tended at times to divide and confuse some members of our party organization, just as similar conflicts have, historically, divided the party of opposition."

Robert M. Pierce, party chairman, said the resolution was adopted after very little debate on the controversy that came after McCarthy attacked President Eisenhower earlier this week on the issue of Communism.

The Republican party of Wisconsin supported Eisenhower and McCarthy in the 1952 elections.

The resolution lauded McCarthy for the outstanding service he rendered to the nation in focusing attention on the Communist menace, and praised the President "for bringing to Washington a climate of hostility toward Communists and Communist sympathizers in government."

Fortune Smiles On Woman With Noisy Chickens

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Edna Albright can continue now with her efforts to develop a voiceless rooster.

Her luck has changed. She has just won $1,600 on a Los Angeles quiz program and yesterday her conviction last July on a charge of keeping 75 noisy chickens, thus maintaining a public nuisance, was reversed by the Appellate Court.

Her neighbors complained her roosters crowed day and night, disturbed their sleep and made them "nervous wrecks." She was given a 15-day suspended jail sentence and 90 days' probation. She was instructed by Municipal Judge Gerald Kepple to remove the poultry within 15 days to another location.

Mrs. Albright's appeal was based on the claim the city attorney did not have authority to give her notice she was in violation of a city ordinance, and that such duty came within the province of police.

Since she has removed the chickens the case probably will be dropped.

Know Your Public Library

By CATHERINE CAVANAGH

(This is the 9th in a series of articles about services in the Winona Public Library.)

Everyone's on someone's list. We all know that is true. Only some are in the police files.

And some are in Who's Who! Nearly every person in the country is listed somewhere. The biggest claim to fame, however, for Mr. Average Citizen, is one line in a city directory or telephone book.

Of all the questions asked at the public library, those about people head the list. People are always interested in people. What was his vocation . . . occupation . . . religion . . . family life . . . education . . . dates of birth and death . . . colleges attended . . . names of wife and children . . . present address? These are some of the things people want to know.

They want to know about the notable—both living and dead—and they include statesmen, soldiers, religious leaders, artists, athletes, scientists, inventors and philosophers.

They want to know about the specialists—in science, social sciences and humanities; in the professions of law, medicine, teaching, engineering, and in business and industry.

They want to know about socialites—the royalty, nobility, first families and the like.

And lastly, they want to know about the ones that God and Abraham Lincoln loved so much—"We, the people."

The variety of reasons people have for making the inquiries are as numerous as the tools we have for looking up the answers. Students want information for term papers and five minute talks; chairmen and hosts want it for introducing speakers and guests; research workers want it to establish authority of authors and specialists by means of biographical data.

The "Dictionary of National Biography" is the largest of all collections of biography, containing more than 30,000 biographies of persons no longer living. The twenty-two volume set is wholly British so far as its entries are concerned, and it is the most important reference work for English biography.

In the field of American biography, there is a comparable twenty volume work called the "Dictionary of American Biography" which includes biographies of 13,633 Americans who are no longer living. The Charles Scribner's publishing house considers this work their most outstanding contribution in one hundred years of book publishing.

These two reference works of notable persons now dead are called by those in the book business "retrospective" biographical sources.

"Current" biographical data are found in "Current Biography," "Biography Index," "Who's Who" and "Who's Who in America." The most familiar of these is probably "Who's Who in America." It was first published in 1899-1900, and a continued series has been kept from that date to the 1954-1955 edition which is its 28th publication. It contains over 44,000 biographies. The editor and owner, since 1931, is Wheeler Summons. He is assisted by his wife, son, daughter and a fifteen-man research staff. His ironclad rule of integrity: "You cannot buy, bribe, or flatter your way into 'Who's Who.'"

To get your name in "Who's Who in America" you must be "selected not as the best, but as an attempt to choose the best known men and women of the country in all lines of useful and reputable achievements—names much in the public eye, not locally, but nationally. The standards of admission divide the eligibles into two classes: 1. Those who are selected on account of special prominence in creditable lines of effort, making them the subjects of extensive interest, inquiry or discussion in this country, and 2. those who are arbitrarily included on account of official position—civil, religious, educational, military, naval, etc."

Added to these more or less monumental biographical references are many one, two or three volume works which in a less complete way do the same work as the larger sets. The following are only a few of them: "International Who's Who," "American Authors 1600-1900," "Who's Who in the Midwest," "Twentieth Century Authors," "American Men of Science," "Leaders in Education," "American Medical Directory," "Who's Who in Colored America," "Who's Who in the United Nations" and "Who's Who in American Art."

So, it's just as we said: Everyone's on someone's list. We all know that is true. Some are in the police files. And some are in Who's Who! If you're not listed in "Who's Who," and you're not in the police files either, we have a "Winona City Directory here at the library . . . and your name is probably in that!"

Couple to Be Wed On Motorcycles in Bar They Met in

LOS ANGELES (AP)—They met in George's Bar. Their romance flourished on Bill Murphy's motorcycle, so today Bill and Carol Stanford are going to be married.

Where? Why, in the bar where they met. "We thought it would be nice to marry where we met," explained Murphy, 31-year-old machinist.

George Lang, owner of the tavern, said the life of a bartender has many complications but this is the first time he has acted as cupid.

Lang said he thought there would be some trouble getting a minister to perform the ceremony in the bar, "but the first one we asked said it was okay with him. I forget his name, but he works out of a wedding chapel."

The couple will be married on two motorcycles.

They will spend their honeymoon motorcycling, match.

Sen. Gore Says He's Tired of Excusing Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today he is "tired of excusing" some of President Eisenhower's actions on grounds of "bad advice."

Gore said this in endorsing a call by Paul M. Butler, chairman-elect of the Democratic National Committee, for "legitimate criticism" of Eisenhower, but without "vilification."

Butler, a South Bend, Ind., lawyer picked in New Orleans last week to succeed Stephen A. Mitchell as head of the Democratic committee, told his first Washington news conference yesterday:

"I will never vilify the President, as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has this week, but all the roars of Chairman Hall and other Republicans will not deter me from calling attention to the failures of the President."

Butler referred here to McCarthy's statement earlier this week in which he accused Eisenhower of displaying a "shrinking show of weakness" in dealing with Communist China.

He also referred to GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall's remark last Monday to a Butler remark that Eisenhower had shown "a lack of capacity" to lead. Hall said that Butler's criticism meant the Democrats had "thrown in the ash can" their pledge to cooperate with the President.

Yesterday — after hearing of Butler's latest statement on Eisenhower — Hall said "the American people won't think much of his judgment in these attacks on the President."

Gore said in an interview he concurs fully in the course charted by Butler. "Most of us criticize the actions and the record of the President of the United States with reluctance," Gore said, "but our system of government will fail unless those holding office are held responsible for the actions of their administration. 'I, for one, have reached the point where I am tired of excusing some of the President's actions on the ground that he has received bad advice. He, himself, must be held responsible for what his administration does.'"

Some Democratic candidates in this year's political campaign steered clear of direct criticism of the President, but Butler said he believes Democratic congressional leaders agree with him the time has come "to scrutinize, to challenge, to debate" presidential decisions.

"I am happy to say that Democratic spokesmen have consistently treated the President with courtesy and consideration," Butler said in a statement he read. "Mr. Eisenhower would be a happier man if he were treated as well by his own party."

Butler told his news conference he will never question Eisenhower's "loyalty or integrity." He also said there was nothing "personal" in his statement last week about the President's leadership capacity.

Wesley Berg, 26, Taylor, has been promoted to the rank of second lieutenant. A member of the 132nd Tank Battalion, Company A, Berg has been in the Guard about a year. He served two years in the Army, including a year in Europe.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Sgt. Floyd Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanson, has been stationed on Formosa since August. His wife and son joined him Dec. 2.

Pope Pius Spends 'Fairly Good Night'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican source said today Pope Pius XII passed "a fairly good night."

The Pope is still seriously ill from the gastric ailment that apparently brought him close to death nine days ago. But he has been slowly gaining strength.

He sat up to eat once yesterday and took a few brief walks on the arm of his private physician. On one of his excursions, he surprised the telephone switchboard operator in his Vatican apartments by coming in to see his pet gold-finch.

"Obviously they feel better than I do," a source reported him saying with a smile.

The Pope has been following a revised medical treatment for the past week. It includes the intravenous injection of blood plasma, vitamins and liver extract, plus increasing amounts of liquid or soft foods.

Police Commissioner Talks Down Salary

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor talked himself out of $2,500 last night.

The City Council voted to give O'Connor a $7,500 annual raise but scaled it down to $5,000 on his insistence. He said the higher raise would have an adverse effect on his department hindering his discipline and command.

The commissioner's salary now is $13,500.

China Tea Clipper Gets Face-Lifting

LONDON (AP)—Workmen began a face-lifting job today on the Cutty Sark, last of the great China tea clippers. The vessel is to be restored to something like her old glory and preserved as a monument to the days of sail.

The Cutty Sark has rolled at anchor in the Thames River the last 20 years. Recent indications she was falling apart sparked demands that she either be restored or scrapped.

Marshall Warns Against Cut In Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, eyes moistened by a shower of tributes, said last night Americans must resist any effort or urge for a drastic reduction in their armed forces.

"We must not get slack and wind up doing the very thing the Soviet government would have us do," Marshall said.

The wartime Army chief of staff, secretary of state and of defense, was honor guest at a dinner marking the 10th anniversary of the American Veterans of World War II and Korea. He was presented a silver-plated helmet symbolic of his wartime leadership.

President Eisenhower and former President Truman also messaged praise.

Eisenhower said Marshall has rendered "service of unexcelled distinction and patriotism." Truman called him "the great man of the second world war" and lauded his later service in government.

Drafted Doctor Gets Tired of Shoveling Sand

DETROIT (AP)—Fed up with the strenuous life of a GI in basic training, a young Michigan physician drafted as an Army private now is ready to trade his private's stripes for the silver bar of a first lieutenant.

Dr. Jack H. Townsend, 25, permitted Draft Board 63, of Muskegon to draft him last Nov. 10 while he was a resident physician at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids. He said at the time he wanted to get his Army service "over with."

Now Dr. Townsend's father, Elden, a high school principal, has confirmed that his son is ready for a commission after undergoing basic training at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

"He's tired of shoveling sand," said the elder Townsend. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, Michigan selective service director, said the Army is ready to commission Dr. Townsend immediately. "We wanted him as a doctor," said Col. Holmes, "but there was nothing the Army could do about it until he said he wanted to serve as one."

Union Complaint Against La Crosse Company Dismissed

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Employment Relations Board Friday dismissed a union complaint that Swift & Co., La Crosse, had violated a collective bargaining agreement in connection with scheduling work for employees.

Local 175 of the UAW-CIO had filed the protest.

The board said the agreement gave the firm, which operates a dairy and poultry plant, the right to schedule production, and that its schedule had not worked to the detriment of union members because all had worked the same number of hours per week.

The ruling followed a hearing at La Crosse Oct. 5.

Mabel to Vote On Bonds Tuesday

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—The $390,000 bond issue for the improvement and enlargement of the Mabel school will go before the voters of Consolidated District 6 Tuesday.

Voting will be at the high school auditorium from 2 to 9 p.m. Citizens who have lived in the state six months and in the district 30 days are eligible. This includes voters who live in old District 6 and those who joined the district July 1, whether they reside in Fillmore or Houston counties. Those living in rural District 9 cannot vote since they will not become a part of District 6 until July 1, 1955.

Lutheran Cookie Sale Offers Many Varieties

The annual cookie and gift sale of Central Lutheran Church will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the church Fellowship Hall.

This sale was originated by one of the members, an exceptionally good cook, who baked fancy cookies as a hobby. Her neighbors and friends prevailed on her to spare a few of her fanciest cakes and cookies for their parties.

From this small beginning the demand for decorated cookies at Christmas time continued to grow until now it requires the combined efforts of all the women in the church to fill.

This is the season for cookies by the dozens and dozens—cookies of every variety and for every purpose, and the visitor to the sale will find just that at Central Lutheran Church's cookie sale.

There will be cookies for the children and family to munch on, cookies for gifts, cookies to serve friends who share the family's holiday happiness, and cookies for decoration.

No one has time to bake all these varieties but at the cookie sale the buyer may find practically every kind of cookie to add to her own supply.

To please the children, there will be animal cookies and storybook cookies, gaily decorated, gingerbread men and fat Santas.

There will be traditional cookies made from cherished recipes from other lands which require special equipment for making, including Swedish spritz, strul, krumkake, rosettes, sandbakkels, fattigmand, Danish abelskiven and German Berline kranzer. There are Chinese chews, fat-and-paper-thin sugar cookies in stars and trees, and many other shapes, frosted and trimmed with colorful sugars and decorations.

Besides the tempting array of cookies, we believe the Christmas breads, julekake, fruit and nut-breads, holiday kringel, stollen, Ferebrat (Swiss pear bread) and dark and light rolls will be better than ever, those in charge stated.

"And the lefse — just needs a special mention. We hope that this time we will have enough for all."

"Every Saturday a group of women has been meeting at the church to bake lefse. One deep-freeze is fairly well filled with lefse. There will be a large assortment of candies and other Christmas sweets also on sale."

In addition to baked goods, there will be a gift booth of handmade articles for last minute shoppers. Tree decorations, stuffed toys, aprons and many other gift items that may save an extra trip will be available.

Coffee and snacks will be served during the sale.

To honor the founders of Central Lutheran Church the festive sale will have a Scandinavian theme, although with recipes from many parts of the world used for the cookie sale, the sale always has an international flavor.

Mrs. John E. Timmons is chairman of the sale and the co-chairman is Mrs. J. Byford Compton.

Florida Plans Early Trial for Slayer of Two

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The state made plans today for an early trial of Gilbert Francis Mead, 48, on charges of slaying his wife and the man with whom she was living.

Mead was held in Hollywood jail on a murder warrant and State Atty. Frank S. Canova said the case would be presented to the grand jury as soon as possible.

Mead, 5 feet 11 and weighing 180 pounds, was arrested at Fort Lauderdale yesterday when he went to return an automobile to a rental agency.

He had been sought since Sunday when Mrs. Evelyn Campbell Mead, 40, and Dominick Albanizio, 53, were found shot to death in the house they occupied in Hollywood.

Capt. W. W. Malphurs of the Hollywood Police Department said Mead admitted orally he killed his former wife and Albanizio but the motive, if any, was not made known.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — A Great Lakes seaman, hurrying to catch his ship as it sailed, lost his life Friday when he made a wrong turn in his car and plunged into the Lake Superior harbor here.

Coast Guardsmen recovered the body of Thomas Marshall, 18, Duluth, early today after first recovering the car.

Marshall was a porter on the freighter Malena which was about to leave the Duluth-Superior harbor. Authorities said Marshall apparently was going to catch a tug to reach the ship, but took the wrong road to reach the tug dock.

The car hit an abutment at the end of Eighth Ave. West and plunged into the icy water. A witness said he saw only one person in the car.

CIO Leaders Off on Mexican Goodwill Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — CIO leaders headed today on a goodwill trip to Mexico after winding up week-long CIO convention sessions here.

The group included CIO President Walter Reuther and other top CIO officers, all re-elected to new terms at the closing convention session yesterday.

France Backs Up Mendes-France On North Africa

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a 294-265 vote of approval in the National Assembly last night, for his policy toward France's restive North African territories.

The government victory, following a heated two-day debate, was one of the premier's slimmest since he took office last June. On each successive vote recently the Assembly has whittled away at his majority.

More than a score of deputies paraded to the Assembly rostrum earlier to ask specific questions about the program the government plans to pursue in Tunisia, Morocco and Algeria.

The premier claimed terrorist activities have been considerably reduced since he took office, asserting his government had moved energetically to meet threats with an impressive display of force, he said he would continue to do everything possible to guarantee France's continued presence in North Africa.

Several deputies accused the government of being too soft in dealing with Tunisia's outlaw Fellagas, who have been invited to come out of hiding in the hills and turn in their arms with the promise they would not be arrested.

Mendes-France said 2,514 had surrendered, and the offer had saved the lives of French soldiers. He added France could afford this policy of forgiveness because she has 35,000 to 40,000 troops in Tunisia and has the Fellagas cornered.

He said outlaw bands in Algeria have been cut off from their supply route through Tunisia, and efforts to eliminate them will be carried out.

U.S. Hunters Bag 2,036 Canadian Deer

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP) — United States hunters brought 2,036 deer and 180 moose from Canada through customs here in the hunting season this year. The 1953 count was 2,063 deer and 249 moose.

Included in this year's bag also were 99 bear, 7,855 ducks and 1,497 grouse brought across the international border.

Fairmont Truck Driver Charged With Manslaughter

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — William Brand, 43, Fairmont, Minn., truck driver, was charged Friday with involuntary manslaughter following an accident in which a 3-year-old girl was killed near here Wednesday night.

Susan Hinrichs, 3-year-old, was riding with her parents when their car collided with Brand's truck during a snowstorm. The truck, in turn, was struck by another car.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinrichs and Joseph Wood, 47, Chicago, driver of the second car, all were hospitalized.

Brand gave his address as the Augusta Hotel in Fairmont. He was released on bond pending a court appearance.

U.S. Highway Takes Lives of Three in Family

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — U. S. 52, which winds its way through many Ohio river towns in Ohio, has claimed through the years the life of an Aberdeen police chief, his father, and his father's father.

The police chief, Elmer Hafer, 41, died yesterday at Hayswood Hospital, Maysville, Ky., across the river from Aberdeen.

Hafer had stopped a truck to check it last Saturday night. When the trucker started to move on, his vehicle caught the door of the automobile from which the chief was leaning. Hafer was thrown to the ground and under the truck.

The driver was not held. Hafer's father died April 7, 1952. He had been hit by a truck in front of a drive-in theater.

Several years before, Chief Hafer's grandfather, Harris Hafer, was struck by an automobile near an Aberdeen church.

All three accidents occurred on U. S. 52.

Man-Who Kidnaped Girl, 14, Held on White Slave Count

CASS LAKE, Minn. (AP) — Oscar T. Westbrook, sought in the disappearance of a 14-year-old Cass Lake girl, is under arrest at Birmingham, Ala., on white slavery charges, Beltrami County officials said they were notified Friday night.

Westbrook, 29, had been working in this area as a laborer and lumberjack shortly before the girl vanished on Sept. 18. She later returned home to report that Westbrook had taken her as far as Chicago after picking her up on the pretext he had a baby-sitting job for her.

The girl said she got work in Chicago to earn enough to pay her way home. Westbrook is a native of Birmingham. County officials said they would file charges in the abduction to hold the man after federal authorities are through with him.

TODAY Collins Has Real Tough Job

By JOSEPH ALSOP

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Here in southern Indochina there are a few months, at most, to glue something together that will hold against the strong pressure of Communism's southward advance in Asia.

The attempt is being made, with a certain amiable desperation, by a model Franco-American partnership. The partners are the wise and high principled French commander, Gen. Ely, and his old friend, Pres. Eisenhower's special envoy, Gen. Lawton Collins. Two men could not work together more closely, and this is just as well, for the odds against Collins and Ely are just about ten to one.

Two little incidents will help to convey the difficulties of their task. The first concerns a very high French official who was giving a very grand official dinner. The dessert was a rich cake. There was a good deal of eyebrow raising when the cake appeared with its top beautifully decorated in pastry cook's curlicues with the word "peace"—the word the Communists here have inscribed on their propaganda banners and made, alas, almost their exclusive property.

All the same, the French official, not wanting to be against peace, said nothing until the same rather specialized decoration was applied in mayonnaise to a cold fiver and in cut out trifles to a cold chicken. After the third dinner party with "peace" proclaimed from the platter, the official told his cook to stick to cooking and to leave the conversation to those at the table. The cook was not fired because he was a very good cook.

Anything But Comic

The incident is one of the current jokes of Saigon, but what it signifies is anything but comic. The cook, undoubtedly, was one of the millions of Vietnamese here in the south who have gone over to the Communists. The penetration is already very deep. Large areas of the countryside are already in Communist hands, with all real authority lodged in the underground committees and courts of the Vietminh.

If this process of Communist penetration is not rapidly halted and reversed, the non-Communist government here in Saigon will soon be nothing but a shadow. All of which in turn gives point to incident number two, which was a visit by this reporter to the brother and chief personal adviser of the head of the present Vietnamese government, Pres. Ngo Dinh Diem.

Mister Nhu, as the president's brother is called by the peculiar Vietnamese name-system, is a slender, immensely polite man who looks as if he came, as in fact he does, from an ancient family of high mandarins. He lives in a way so humble as to be downright astonishing in Asia, where the brothers of heads of government are seldom found in little houses in back alleys. But Mr. Nhu is not really very humble.

The subject of our conversation was the most urgent problem here, the problem of the army. Since the Geneva accords were signed only a few days ago, this country has been rent in twain and brought close to anarchy by the bitter, open, personal quarrel between Pres. Diem and the vain, clever, ambitious army chief of staff, Gen. Hinh.

Besieged in Palace

Pres. Diem was virtually besieged in his palace. He only survived because he was given the most unqualified American support. Since the army is the sole effective instrument of authority in Viet Nam, the army-government quarrel opened the way for enormous Communist gains. Largely by the efforts of Gens. Ely and Collins, however, Gen. Hinh has now been got out of Saigon and removed from the army command. Thus the opportunity now exists to bind up the old wounds, and begin in earnest the gigantic task of restoring order and halting Communist penetration.

The only trouble was, Mr. Nhu did not see the thing that way. The army needed to be purged and handed over to the favorites of Pres. Diem. An army, anyway, was for defending frontiers. A new civilian system of administering the countryside had to be created, out of nothing, to be sure. There was no great hurry because "the people of Viet Nam are for us."

Not Political Realism

Such were the themes of Mr. Nhu. The policy he described was certain to renew the old feud with

Year of Silence Over for Worker

CHESTERFIELD, England (AP) — A strange year of silence is over for crane operator Ron Hewitt, 29. It began last December when Hewitt's 300 fellow workmen decided not to talk to him because he refused to join a one-day strike. From then on, none of them said a word to him. They devised a set of signals so work could go on without speech.

The factory management offered Hewitt another job but he refused, contending the whole affair was a matter of principle. His fellow workers belonged to the Amalgamated Engineering Union while he, as a crane operator, belonged to another. His union had opposed the strike.

Yesterday, the other workers finally called off the war of no words. ABU Local Secretary Ted Boyce walked up to Hewitt and shook hands.

Hewitt said he had no hard feelings. "Let's forget it ever happened," he asked.

Bill Harwood led the way for Chatfield over Rushford 54-46 as he dumped in 23 points. Don Herick chipped in with 12 and Dave Finstuen added 11. James Swenson potted 17 for Rushford and Chuck Austad scored 14.

Chatfield held the edge in field goals 15-20, but Rushford scored 16 out of 25 free throws, 14 out of 23 for Chatfield. Chatfield took the B game, 35-16.

Three men hit the double figures for Harmony as it downed Mabel 53-49. Dick Buri had 18, Ed Goertzen 14.

Utah Wins 5th Straight, Rave Notices Right

By ED CORRIGAN
 The Associated Press
 If you can take nonconference records as an indication, the rave notices about the University of Utah before the start of the basketball season were right.

Coach Jack Gardner's Utes now have won five games in a row, including last night's smartly styled 71-44 victory over the University of Arizona.

Utah probably will have to fight off Wyoming for the Skyline Conference championship, but Brigham Young, another perennial contender, doesn't seem to have it.

Wyoming won its third nonconference game, by downing Creighton 76-72 after overcoming a 35-33 deficit.

Brigham Young dropped its third in a row without a victory when the University of Washington routed the Cougars 64-44. Washington led by 40-18 at the half.

Duquesne, one of the top-rated teams in the country, defeated Fordham 64-45 in the first round of the annual Steel Bowl Tournament at Pittsburgh. George Washington trounced host Pitt 67-65 and will meet the Dukes in the final tonight.

The Big Ten television program also will get under way with the Indiana - Notre Dame game being carried over a nationwide hook-up. The Irish stunned Indiana 65-64 in the NCAA Tournament last season.

The University of Richmond, in the midst of a scoring binge, has averaged 106 points per game in five outings. The spiders haven't been beaten. Randolph - Macon was victim No. 5 last night 119-52.

Southern Methodist's undefeated record was smashed by Washington University of St. Louis 54-54. The Mustangs with seven minutes to play had an eight-point bulge, but Washington wiped it out and went ahead.

Southern California, the western regional NCAA champion, eked out a 45-43 victory over Oregon State in a major Pacific Coast game.

UCLA whipped Santa Clara 74-33. Syracuse held off Harvard 63-56. Wake Forest turned back Maryland 62-58 and Utah State stopped Washington State 73-72.

California was surprised by College of Pacific 84-77 in a double overtime struggle.

Browns Play Pitt Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Cleveland Browns can move to their accustomed spot in the National Football League playoffs if they get past the Pittsburgh Steelers tomorrow.

A brown victory would assure Paul Brown's club of the Eastern Division title and assure them a crack at the Detroit Lions for the league title. The Lions already have clinched the Western Division crown but they will go through the motions against the Chicago Bears.

The Steelers are one of the two teams that have beaten the Browns. And they did it emphatically, 55-27, at the start of the season.

The New York giants still have a faint chance to tie the Browns for the division crown. If they win and the Steelers and Lions whip the Browns, the eastern section will be deadlocked.

The Philadelphia Eagles play the Cardinals, who will play the services of Charley Conerly. The Chicago Cardinals and the Washington Redskins also have an important tussle because the loser will finish in the cellar. Green Bay winds up operations at Los Angeles, and in today's game, San Francisco entertains Baltimore.

and Elton Sikkink 13. Bob Flynn scored 14 and LeRoy Carlson 14 for Houston. Harmony had one more field goal than Houston, 16-15, and made 21 out of 33 free throws to 19 out of 25 for Houston. Houston won the B game 27-24.

Spring Valley romped over Peterson 84-39 and scored 20 or more points in each quarter.

Jim Sheldon led the Spring Valley parade with 27 points. Gene Conway added 18, and Dick Webster 12. Maynard Thompson had 14 for Peterson and Everett Eiken scored 10.

Spring Valley scored from all angles, and dumped in 35 field goals during the course of the evening. Peterson scored 11 times from the field.

Peterson outscored Spring Valley from the free throw line, hitting on 17 out of 25, while Spring Valley scored 14 out of 30. Peterson won the B game 29-28.

Mabel had to outscore Canton in the last two quarters to take a 59-54 victory. The score was tied at the half, 28-28.

Paul Spande had 17 for Mabel and Roger Amdahl 16, but Tom Truman of Canton took the evening's scoring honors with 18 points. Gordie Johanson added 16 for Canton and Bob Pierce scored 12. Mabel took the B game 42-30.

Bob Lonkowski took the high point honors for the game, scoring 21 for Caledonia, but Lanesboro scored the victory 49-45.

Ralph Sorum had 19 for Lanesboro and Ed Redalen scored 12 and Karlson Ode 10.

The teams each scored 17 field goals but Lanesboro made 15 out of 23 free throws to 11 out of 20 for Caledonia. Lanesboro copped the B game also 43-28.

Nobody hit the double figure mark for Preston as the Blue Jays succumbed to powerful Wykoff 66-29. Wayne Kneeskern hit nine points for Preston.

Wykoff poured 23 field goals through the nets to nine for Preston. The Blue Jays led in free throws, however, scoring 11 out of 25 to 10 out of 24 for the Wykoffs.

Wykoff won the B game 43-28.

Eight Big Ten Teams Resume Play Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa's undefeated Hawkeyes go up against unpredictable Missouri tonight to feature an eight-game basketball program for Big Ten teams.

Three other undefeated Big Ten teams are in action. Illinois is at Oklahoma A & M, Butler is at Michigan and St. Louis University is at Ohio State.

Minnesota will seek revenge against De Paul at Minneapolis. The Blue Demons upset the Gophers at Chicago in a 94-93 triumph but, Minnesota figures to have a definite edge on its home floor.

Indiana is up against an old rival at Notre Dame. The Irish, victors over Wisconsin and North Western, knocked Indiana out of the NCAA tourney last year, 65-64, and the Hoosiers would like nothing better than to ruin what looks like another banner basketball year at South Bend.

Wisconsin bounced back from its defeat by Notre Dame to whip Western Michigan and would like to get a winning streak going at the expense of Oklahoma. The game is at Oklahoma.

Purdue rounds out the schedule with a game against Southern Methodist at Lafayette, Ind. The Boilermakers have a 2-1 record, losing to Penn 69-63.

'Criminal Neglect' Charged in Death Of 80 Coal Miners

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Union officials said 80 men died today in an Indian coal mine disaster and blamed it on the supervisory staff's preoccupation with the forthcoming marriage of the mine manager's daughter.

C. P. Menta, president of the Madhya Pradesh Mines Technical Staff and Workers' Union, said 80 men died in a coal mine near Parasia in central India when they were trapped by collapsing mine walls.

Menta charged the management with "criminal neglect." Other union officials said the supervisory staff was so busy with the forthcoming marriage of the mine manager's daughter that nothing was done about ventilating a pit that was out of order.

The mine is 100 miles north of Nagpur.

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Engineers Friday predicted the levels of all the Great Lakes except Superior may climb next spring to the flood levels of 1952.

They said Lake Erie will probably remain at a point six inches above the 1952 level, which set off floods in many shoreline areas. Thousands of acres were flooded and several hundred families were driven from their homes near here.

'This Is the Life,' Escaped Lifer Writes Police

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—A taunting Christmas greeting, postmarked St. Paul, Minn., was received by Everett police today from an escaped convict who wrote "having a wonderful time," and "I plan to stay away awhile."

The greeting from Jack Raymond, 33, an expert forger with a string of bogus check convictions, contained a sample of his work. Inside was a check for $24.13 made out to Police Capt. Morris Stevens of the check detail, and bearing a strange signature.

Raymond, who formerly lived on the outskirts of this Puget Sound city, escaped last summer from a deputy sheriff who was transporting him to the Washington State Prison.

He was en route to begin a life term as an habitual criminal.

Convict Flips Coin to Decide Murder Method

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—An ex-convict related yesterday how he told his pretty young girl friend several days in advance he was going to kill her and then, just before he carried out the threat, decided on the flip of a coin how she was to die.

"Heads I'd strangle her; tails I'd cut her apart limb from limb," Earl C. Runyon said in a tape-recorded, signed confession.

"It came up heads," the stocky ex-convict, ex-professional fighter and ex-carnival worker went on.

In his confession Runyon said he killed Mrs. Violet Mae Williams, 25, mother of two children and a divorcee, because she was "too pious" and refused to join him in a scheme to steal welfare checks from the mails.

Runyon said he told Mrs. Williams he was going to kill her several days before the crime actually was committed.

Runyon said he decided last Saturday morning, after spending the night at Mrs. Williams' home, that he would kill her.

He flipped a coin to decide which way he would end her life.

When the coin came down heads he grabbed Mrs. Williams by the throat, the confession continued, and alternately choked and revived her to prolong the woman's agony. This went on, he said, for nearly an hour.

When Mrs. Williams slumped to the floor dead, Runyon said, he covered the body with a bedspread, spat on it and then went on a round of taverns.

He called police three hours after the slaying and blurted out that he had killed Mrs. Williams.

At the close of yesterday's confession Runyon stated that he intended to "finish the job" when he was released from prison and Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. Betty Orr, and Mrs. Williams' ex-husband, Harland Williams.

He said he had "not never gotten around to the other two killings."

Owner of Truck Not Implicated In 'Murder' Case

BANCROFT, Wis. (AP)—Portage County Sheriff Harold Thompson said Friday noon he had located the owner of a truck seen at the tavern of missing Miss Mary Hogan but that the man had nothing to do with her disappearance.

Thompson said the truck was owned by a Wood County farmer, whom he declined to identify. He said the farmer told him he left Miss Hogan at the tavern Wednesday afternoon and that as he was driving away a car arrived.

Miss Hogan, 34, disappeared Wednesday from her tavern near here where she lived alone. The state crime laboratory said sufficient blood stains were found in the building to indicate Miss Hogan had been shot.

The cash box had been emptied and an empty .32 caliber revolver shell was found on the barroom floor.

One of Minnesota's Oldest Settlers Dies

CLIMAX, Minn. (AP)—Ester O. Estenson, 94, oldest of the original settlers in the Minnesota part of the Red River Valley, died at his home here Thursday.

Estenson moved to the Climax area from St. Cloud in the winter of 1870. Later he was a founder of the agricultural college farm at Crookston, where he also was active in the historical society until his retirement in 1949.

Estenson contributed many pioneer relics both to the society and to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

BARCOCK, Wis. (AP)—The 13 members of the Forest Fessler family are without a home today following a fire that destroyed their house and all possessions.

Mrs. Fessler and the 11 children escaped in their night clothing when flames of undetermined origin swept the home on Highway 80 a mile north of here late Thursday night. Fessler was away at work at the time.

New Jap Cabinet Will Give U.S. Top Collaboration

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's new government promised today that continued collaboration with the United States and other non-Communist nations will get first priority over expanding trade with Russia and Red China.

Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu formally enunciated the policy following prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's first meeting with his Cabinet.

Shigemitsu, back in place of power again after being convicted as a World War II war criminal, said Japan was willing to restore normal relations with Russia and China so long as such negotiations do not "prejudice our basic collaboration with the free nations."

He added that the new government does not "necessarily expect much from trade with Communist nations at the present juncture but... we shall welcome opportunities of expanding the volume which now is rather small."

Shigemitsu's statement appeared to bear out predictions of Japanese editors, writers and politicians that the Hatoyama government actually expects to accomplish little, if anything, in promoting trade with the Reds before the promised dissolution of the Diet in January.

To get the leftwing votes necessary to elect him Thursday, Hatoyama had to promise Japan's Socialists he would dissolve the Diet by the end of January and call elections to be completed by March 10.

Argument Over When Cops Arrive, Then Fight Starts

CLEVELAND (AP)—The argument was all over when two policemen arrived at a cafe here last night—but not the shooting started.

Police Sgt. William J. Kahoe and Patrolman Henry C. DeZort learned from patrons in the cafe that the man who had argued and waved a gun was outside.

On the sidewalk they found Samuel Willford, 26. The officers said when they tried to arrest him, Willford drew a revolver and wounded DeZort in the leg and arm.

As Willford ran, Kahoe dropped to his knee and shot him several times in the back. Willford fell dead in the street.

The cafe owner, Marion Motley, former father of Cleveland Browns professional football team, told police Willford had started the argument by claiming Motley owed him $1, after playing a mechanical bowling game. Motley refused to give Willford the money and asked him to leave.

Motley said Willford left, but returned with a gun and waved it about, demanding the dollar. Motley said he gave the money to Willford, who left just before the officers arrived.

Willford, who lived several blocks from the cafe, was unemployed. His brother William T. Willford, 28, witnessed the shooting.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.S.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Psychologists employed by a Chicago advertising agency concluded women's main objective—both conscious and unconscious—is chiefly to admire themselves in the mirror and attract either admiration or envy from other women. Other studies show men scarcely notice the fine, expensive little details women employ in outdoing other women.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Depends. If programs are carefully selected, they may act as a harmless safety valve for his feelings of inferiority and frustration. However films that show everybody insecure and afraid of everybody else, even with a happy ending, are like the movies in Germany during Hitler's regime. They represent the unhealthy result of our present worldwide tension and anxiety.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Nobody knows much about speed causing accidents, says a University of Chicago press release. The driver's personality seems to be the chief cause of accidents. Iowa State Traffic Department found that young drivers in old cars did the most reckless speeding. "The older the car and the younger the driver, the greater was the speed."

U.N. Organization Suspends 3 U.S. Staff Members

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (U) — The U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization said last night it has suspended three of the eight American staff members who refused to answer U.S. Loyalty Board questions last summer.

Four others whose contracts are soon to expire already have been given leave with pay and are not slated to be rehired.

UNESCO Director General Luther H. Evans announced the eighth American is being kept on the rolls because he is satisfied the staffer has not violated any UNESCO regulations. Evans said, however, that the case will be reviewed.

UNESCO officials refused to disclose the names of the eight Americans involved in the controversial cases. An American spokesman at the U.N. recently identified one as David Liff, who has defied several U.S. court orders to return to the United States from UNESCO headquarters in Paris to testify on loyalty questions.

Worker Suffocates In Trailer Fire

GRAND MARAIS, Minn. (U) — A Taconite Harbor project worker suffocated early today in a fire that destroyed bedclothing and the interior of his metal house trailer.

The victim was Cleat George Sharrai, 45, who came to Taconite Harbor, 28 miles southwest of here on Lake Superior, about two weeks ago to work as a driller. Sharrai's mother lives in Adrian, Mich.

Coroner E. F. Lindquist said Sharrai apparently went to bed with a cigar in his mouth. The fire was discovered about 1:45 a. m. Lindquist said there would not be an inquest.

Montgomery Ward Suit Hearing Set

CHICAGO (U) — A hearing in Louis E. Wolfson's suit against Chairman Sewell Avery and other directors of Montgomery Ward & Co. has been set for Jan. 10.

Wolfson, a Florida industrialist, has asked the court to declare Ward's method of electing directors illegal.

Wolfson has said he will seek to gain control of Ward's at the annual shareholder meeting April 22.
